CONDITIONS OF SALE.

I.—The highest bidder to be the buyer, the auctioneer reserving to himself the right of refusing the bidding of any person he pleases; should any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the lot or lots so disputed about may be put up again or not, as the auctioneer may decide.

II.—The advance on each lot to be fixed by the auctioneer.

III.—The purchasers are, when required, to pay down immediately the whole of the purchase-money, or such deposit as the auctioneer may require, such deposit or cash payment to be applicable to all or any of the lots so purchased; and the purchasers are, if required, to give in their names and places of abode; in default thereof the lot or lots so purchased to be forfeited and resold immediately, or otherwise dealt with as the auctioneer may direct.

IV.—The lots must be taken away, with all faults, imperfections or errors of description, within three days after the Sale, and the whole or remainder of the purchase-money, as the case may be, to be paid within one day after the sale; but should any case arise in which an allowance or drawback is deemed proper by the auctioneer, such drawback or allowance shall be computed by the amount the lot was purchased for at this sale.

V.—In case of any dispute or difficulty respecting the bidder or the bidding, or in respect to any claim for allowance or drawback, or right to relinquish any lot or lots by reason of errors of description in quality or material, or deficiency in quantity, weight or measures, the auctioneer is to be sole judge and arbitrator between the vendor and purchaser.

VI.—The auctioneer being agent for the vendors is not to be held responsible for any matter respecting this sale after three days subsequent to the auction, that time being allowed to purchasers to clear away and take possession of their lots; therefore, all purchasers will be considered as having accepted the lot or lots, whether correctly described or not (although they may by neglect or otherwise have omitted to pay for and clear them away), and as having exonerated the auctioneer from any drawback or allowance, which, had the application been made within the three days, the auctioneer might have considered it proper to make. No claim of any kind can be received or entertained after the lots are removed from the place of sale, and this condition shall be deemed the essence of the contract.

VII.—But should any purchaser or purchasers obtain a lot or lots, and by any neglect or evasion omit paying for the same, such purchaser or purchasers shall pay interest at £5 per cent. per annum on the amount of the said purchase, from the day of sale until the amount shall be discharged. The lots remain at the purchasers' risk from the time of sale, and the auctioneer is not, in any case, whether as to vendor or purchaser, to be held responsible for damage at any time by accident or fire.

LASTLY.—Upon failure of complying with the above conditions the money deposited in part payment shall be forfeited, and all lots left uncleared may (in conformity with these conditions) be resold by public or private sale, without further notice; and the deficiency (if any) arising from such resale, together with all charges attending the same, shall be made good by such defaulter or defaulters at this sale, who shall have no claim to any surplus. This condition is without prejudice to the right of the auctioneer to enforce the contract made at the sale.
